“How was _______ created in the Ancient World and how is it used today?”

My classical innovation in the arts or philosophy is __________________________________________________________________________

The questions I have include:

_____________________________________________________________________________
_____________________________________________________________________________
_____________________________________________________________________________
_____________________________________________________________________________

You are to use printed books, magazines, or websites. For each reading or website you use to gather evidence, you need to include a list of sources that tell us:

• Who wrote it? When?
• What is the author’s point of view, purpose, format, and bias?
• Is it a primary or secondary source?

Identify, effectively select, and analyze different forms of evidence used including primary and secondary sources such as art and photographs, artifacts, oral histories, maps, and graphs.
Your paper can include maps, illustrations, and quotations.
